

Lyrics, by Year

An analysis of the lyrical evolution of each band's catalog.

The 1975

Yeah it's the way we are
We were smoking by 11 and knocking round town
Beat 'em ups on my arm
We were never good at selling, couldn't cut down
And I stay with my father while his friends die of heart attacks
He's got a heart made of stone but he never gets cold because the sun's always on his back
"I used to think you were cool and I believed you had a wonderful vision
But I soon found out you're a terrible friend and your mother's on the television"
Give's a go on your bike, how you getting along with your life?
It's alright
Yeah it's alright

so far (it's alright)

Catfish and the Bottlemen

Darling I'm done for once
And as soon as I get outta here
I plan on coming back for nothing
But then again there's you
And although this town does flaunt
All the stuff you need to feel at home
I plan on taking it from it nothing
But then again there's you
And although this town does plot
Much thicker stories than I care to talk
You, you've ducked them in style
And I've always loved you for that

Blossoms

Science came, a kingdom reigned
Below, below my Charlemagne
And the river always flows, so if you go, I will know
By the rain, my Charlemagne
Hello, hello
My eyes, tried, hide, cried, died
Inside the snow in the winter
Hello, hello
The doctors knew, prescribe me you
Below, below the amber sky
And the river always flows, so if you go, I will know
By the rain, my Charlemagne
And the river always flows tears of gold
Left me cold, do you feel the same, my Charlemagne?
